Project Summary

Closest to the house, a broad run of cool grey large-format porcelain creates the main entertaining terrace, edged in crisp charcoal porcelain edging for a sharp frame against the planting. From the left-hand side of the patio, the layout opens out into a generous sweep of deep-green artificial turf, keeping the centre of the garden calm and uncluttered while the hard landscaping remains the dominant visual element. Along the far boundary, a restrained planting scheme of clipped box balls, architectural specimen shrubs and a few small feature trees sits in clean beds, giving softness without overwhelming the space.

Key Design Features

- Cool grey porcelain patio
- Artificial turf lawn
- Charcoal porcelain edging
- Discrete feature planting
- Full lighting specification
